

Flouride Specialist Cartridge Data Sheet

The removal of flouride from drinking water

The Flouride Specialist Cartridge is suitable with an existing water filter system or can be installed its own housing which will fit besides any existing housing you may have. Alternatively, the Flouride Specialist cartridge is also suitable with a gravity filter, as an add-on to your ordinary cartridges.

How does it work?

The special disposable cartridge contains the very latest granular-activated alumina, specifically designed for the removal of fluoride from the water as it passes through the cartridge.

Do I need to remove Fluoride?

Yes. Many independent specialists condemn the addition of fluoride to your drinking water. It has no proven benefits. The addition of fluoride to drinking water has been linked with increased risk of bone cancer, damage to the central nervous system and has been banned by a number of EC countries.

When will the cartridge need changing?

The cartridge can last up to 2100 litres. The cartridge will last according to how much fluoride is in the raw water supply. It is never an exact science and will vary from water between different supplies.

Where do I purchase the cartridge?

From ItDoesTheJob.com. If you are an existing customer, we can set up a reminder system to notify you that your cartridge needs changing after a fixed period of time.
